

FREEMAN MANUFACTURING & SUPPLY ACQUIRES CUT-ALL TOOLS

AVON, Ohio—July 28, 2025— Today, Freeman Manufacturing & Supply Company announced the acquisition of Cut-All Tools, Inc., a company based in Stoughton, MA, forming what is now the largest distributor of specialty materials for steel rule die manufacturers and packaging converters.

Cut-All Tools is a premier provider of die making and die cutting supplies used primarily in cutting corrugated and folding boxes. Other uses include cutting for medical products, rubber, abrasives, and gasket industries. Founded in 1968, the Company has offered a full suite of products from its warehouse in Stoughton, Massachusetts.

Freeman will immediately begin moving most of the inventory to its location in Lititz, PA while integrating the expanded lines of die supplies into its other warehouse locations throughout the United States and Canada.

“Cut-All Tools is one of the oldest remaining companies servicing this industry and we are honored that Chuck Connor has chosen Freeman to continue his tremendous legacy and tradition of providing top quality products, genuine customer service, and fair prices to an industry that has been so well-served by Chuck. We see this acquisition as a key investment in taking our die supply division to the next level,” said Matthew Turco, President of Freeman.

Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

About Freeman

Starting as a foundry patternshop in Maumee, Ohio in 1902, Freeman Manufacturing & Supply Company has evolved from reselling supplies to other local patternshops into one of the world’s top manufacturers and distributors of tooling materials—consisting of urethane, epoxy, wax, wood, and silicone. Now headquartered in Avon, Ohio, Freeman continues to be a global leader in manufacturing specialty waxes and polyurethanes as well as North America’s largest industry supplier of tooling materials and die supplies with over a dozen warehouse locations throughout the United States and Canada.
